V. M. I. in Close Though
Very Tame Exhibition.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
 Raleigh, N. C., April 9.—Agricultural and Mechanical defeated Virginia Military Institute here to-day in an exciting, though rather slow, exhibition of baseball by the score of 3 to 2. The visitors were unable to connect with the ball, their two runs being scored in the second inning on a single by Stuart, after which Hudson was passed and Leach was hit by a pitched ball. Sewell then knocked an easy one to short, who threw to second to catch the runner, but the ball was missed, two more coming in the rubber. Agricultural and Mechanical tied the score up in the sixth inning, when Correll singled to left and scored on a two-bagger by Winston to right, and Winston scored later on an error of the second baseman.

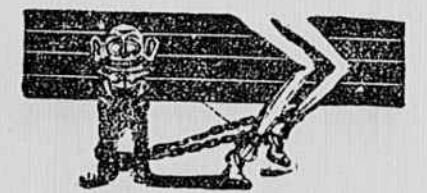

In the seventh the Techs put the winning run across on a two-bagger and two singles. The Cadets put up a good effort, but their pitcher, a steady one, keeping the hits mostly scattered. Foster started the twirling for Agricultural and Mechanical, but was relieved by Russell in the seventh on account of being a little wild. The features were the playing of Correll, in left, and Terry, at first base, for Agricultural and Mechanical. The

If You Feel Fagged to a Finish and Utterly Used Up Here is Quick Relief.

Half the people you meet complain of weary muscles, stagnant brain, jangled nerves, and a wonderful desire to lay down and just quit. The way these people have been using nerves that are gradually flare up the nerves only to die down brain, as do they must. Avoid nerve stimulants. Bear in mind that this worn out feeling is due to poor blood, to bacteria in the water you drink; to the multiplying of destructive germs in the blood faster than they can be over-ruled by the body's corpuscles, and to what is known as acute toxemia, that condition where the venous or impure blood accumulates faster than it can be replaced by the red arterial blood.

If you feel played out go to any drug store and ask for a bottle of S. S. S., Swift's Sure Specific. Here is a remedy that gets at work in a twinkling; it just naturally rushes right into your blood, sets it going; and left up and down and sideways.

You feel better at once, not from a stimulant, not from the action of drugs, but from the rational effect of a natural medicine just as active and just as timely as to a man who has been lost in the snow. It comes from the heart of a settler just cooking a soup of good honest beef. Do not neglect to get a bottle of S. S. S. to-day. It will make you feel better in just a few minutes. It is prepared only in the laboratory of The Swift Specific Co., 127 Swift Bldg., Chicago.

Just telling of the many strange conditions that afflict the human family by reason of impoverished blood.

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 3.—Philadelphia beat Brooklyn in the special opening of the National League season.

ing of the National League season, which marked the formal occupation of Ebbets Field to-day. The cold, raw wind kept the attendance down, but did not affect the players, who put up a remarkable battle. Both Seaton and Rucker pitched brilliant ball, the former just shading the noted southpaw in a 1 to 0 shutout.

Benny Meyer, the heavy-hitting recruit from Toronto, lost the game for Rucker in the first inning. With one out, Meyer doubled to right, and the muffed Lobero foul ball in sun fire, but Stengel overcame this error by making a sensational catch of a long fly from the same batter. Then Meyer was out on a bunt. The game continued with the only run of the contest. Stengel added further to his reputation by grabbing Dolan's single and cutting off the play at a point throw to the plate.

Neither side was able to score again. Rucker was taken out in the eighth, when, with one out, Fisher and Miller made scratch hits, and Callahan scored. The Yankees then substituted forced Miller, and Stengel was out on a corking stop by Dolan. This was Brooklyn's best chance to win, but the Yankees pitched the next inning and showed no more fight. The ceremonies were impressive, the two teams parading across the field, headed by a band and Borough President Alfrederick, who threw out the first ball.

Chapel Hill, N. C., April 9.—In the last game before the annual classic series of games with the University of Virginia, the University of Virginia, the University of North Carolina showed up the Davidson College team this afternoon as mere pawns in the hands of the players making the Presbyterians by the score of 10-0. It was a scintillatingly hard-fought game, but the Carolina registered a record to her credit, including three three-run home runs, two batters, Johnstone, centre fielder, and McCaskey, repeated his marvelous batting feat of yesterday in the game with V.M.I., and he was the only one to get two hits to the bat. A three-base hit and a two-base hit were included in this record, all the University of North Carolina. Before the end of the season, the Carolina by her heavy slugging had sent the Davidson twirlers to the side lines. The score,

BY GUS MALBERT.

Jake Gaudin finally managed to learn the way to Richmond, and, though one day late, will attempt to amuse Griffin and the Colts for a short while this afternoon with his former champs of the International League, the Rochester Hustlers. Most of the fans know the Rochester club, it will always give a battle, and the Griffins have reached that stage now where they will fight back. Though not appearing on the team is the one who, with Toronto and the one with Richmond College yesterday, furnished much of the real practice of the training season. While there were those among us who were a little anxious to criticize the team work of the Colts, few realized that Grif was drilling the men in the signals to be used in the championship race, and that this drilling was the cause of some runs not being scored.

Now scout for the Brooklyn club, will be with us to-day. He has sent no advance information as to the young men after, but many are of the opinion that the club will be much improved so much since last season that he just can't stay in the minors much longer.

Harry Griffin did not pitch the game yesterday because a ruling by the A. A. U., as interpreted by the local referee, forbade the organization, that amateurs playing on college professionals professionalize themselves, through a purely amateur team playing as an amateur professional team without coming under the jurisdiction of the governing body. The ruling is manifestly absurd, especially in so far as today's game was concerned, because if it were applied to the championship, and further, because it was not a championship game nor was any admission charged. In other words, it

The same tactics will be used against Rochester. There are only a few days left to perfect the inside stunt, which is to be the main feature of the pennant jog. Some of the youngsters, noticeably Harris, have not quite digested everything that has been told them, and more drilling is needed. Experimenting will stop when the season opens, being replaced by tactics to be utilized before misuses really point. Harris was guilty again yesterday of spilling a bit-and-run play. Connie Brennan was up and Harris was given the sign to get away, but he failed to heed, and was caught. He is to go back to third. These are the things which must be corrected. It was all well enough in the go with the collegians, but games have been lost frequently when there was more depending on them through just such oversights.

Burleson and Frey will be the twirlers to go against Rochester. Burleson says that he is right and will go the entire nine innings. However, since the Rochester team is a lengthy individual overdo it, and will yank him after five innings, allowing young Frey to complete the distance.

Ducky Eberts was not in the game yesterday, and his absence gave the collegians the two runs score. The home run credited to Hulcher, which scored the man in front of him, should have been an easy out. Kelly Harris, playing in Ebert's field, misjudged the ball and hit it in for a fly ball, when a short run backward would have landed the leather. But Ducky will be back to-day.

West Raleigh, N. C., April 9.—The Juniors won the class basketball championship by defeating the Sophomores last night by a score of 35 to 21. This made four games out of five for the Juniors, who had won, and none lost. The Sophomores and Freshmen lost to the Juniors last night, and lost two, while the Sophomores won one.

The track team will leave Saturday for Wake Forest, where the second track meet of the Eastern Monday by a close score, and the team is in the best of shape for the time, and a great fight will be put up by the team to win the second of these events.

The defeat the Teals received from the University of North Carolina, Saturday, United up the weak spots in the Red and White squad, and efforts will be made to strengthen them.

By winning Saturday's baseball game from Wake Forest, the Juniors today's game from Trinity. A. & M. had a close game, and out of nine played, and after playing two Tennant is hitting left handed these days. While he accomplished nothing yesterday, he looks vastly better hitting in this position than right handed. He has not yet have accumulated a crouch since last year, but he has a habit which he has but lately formed. Changing his style of batting may help him. At any rate Steve is going to have all manner of patience with both Tennant and Harris, as he realizes that both boys will eventually be valuable members of his club. Doc Newcomb is also a member of the crouch brigade, and his explanation of it is that he has been looking at curves too soon.

Walter Smallwood finished the game yesterday, and while he was hit several times, his courage and grit have already improved since his arrival, and a few more mornings used in teaching him the proper way of bringing him around. As we have remarked occasionally, he has the natural ability to become a valuable product before the season is over.

Speaking of salable products, Larry Sutton, former newspaper man and

A high-contrast, black and white portrait of a man in a suit, resting his chin on his hand in a contemplative pose. The image is grainy and has a stark, almost graphic quality, with deep shadows and bright highlights. The man is looking directly at the camera with a serious expression. His right hand is propped up, with his chin resting on his palm. His left arm is crossed over his chest. The background is dark and textured. The overall mood is one of intense focus and intellectual pursuit.

REV. J. T. RIDDICK,

Are you reading the Feature Section of the Sunday Edition of The Times-Dispatch.

There is nothing better printed in a Sunday newspaper.

With an attractive first page in colors, the section contains articles profusely illustrated, of absorbing interest.

It is the last word in fact, fiction and fashion, and you are missing something worth while, if you are not reading it.

The Color Comic Section of The Times-Dispatch is the best that money can buy. It is enjoyed as much by the grown-ups as by the children.

These are but two of the many splendid features of
